COVER STORY

Pictured on our cover this month are AMERICAN and MEXICAN CHAMPION SHIKARI'S ZURI and CHAMPION SHIKARI'S BLACK MAMBA. Both dogs are owned, bred and handled exclusively by Patricia Church - SHIKARI KENNELS, 9028 Cedar, Bellflower, California 90206.

ZURI was among the top ten Basenjis in the United States last year in both Breed and Group wins. He has seven Best of Breed wins and two Group placements this year. MAMBA, along with going Best of Winners at the Western BCOA Specialty, finished his Championship with three majors, finishing under Breeder-Judge Mrs. Norm Wallace.

ZURI is a beautifully balanced, elegant Basenji with a well developed chest and strong angulated rear. He has an excellently proportioned head with dark, far seeing eyes and hooded ears. ZURI has a reaching gait which combined with his balanced body, typifies the true Basenji movement. ZURI'S sire was the famed AMERICAN, CANADIAN and MEXICAN CHAMPION FULA HAZARD OF THE CONGO. His dam is AMERICAN, CANADIAN and MEXICAN CHAMPION NREKE'S BLACK FULANI (NREKE - SHIKARI'S former kennel name).

MAMBA is a bit more refined than ZURI. He has a very short, silky, dense black coat with no undercoat. He has consistently produced this exceptional coat in his puppies. In describing MAMBA the comment by English Judge Goodman who judged the Western Specialty was, "Winners Dog and Best of Winners was Church's SHIKARI'S BLACK MAMBA, a close-coated tri of good color and considerable elegance. Good reach of neck, level topline, well set double-curved tail and fine bone." MAMBA was also sired by FULA HAZARD. His dam is CHAMPION STACON AMBER TULE, a FULA HAZARD daughter. He therefore carries heavy FULA background.

ZURI and MAMBA both measure 17 inches at the shoulder and are proven studs. ZURI has sired two Canadian Champions. MAMBA'S puppies are just starting their show careers this summer.

NEWS FROM GREAT BRITAIN

by Ernest Goodman

8 Hardy Grove, Folly Lane, Swinton, Manchester

Since my last report, a number of general championship shows have taken place within a short space of time. After Manchester the next show was the Scottish Kennel Club show, Edinburgh. The S.K.C. maintains its Basenji classes at this show in spite of the fact that the great majority, if not all of the Basenjies exhibited here come from south of the border and have to travel considerable distances, resulting always in a rather small entry - this year averaging 7 entries per class in 5 classes. The judge was the woman all-rounder Mrs. Thelma Gray, very well known in Corgis, Chihuahuas and Beagles. Best of Breed and dog C.C. went to Mrs. Cardew's young red and white dog ST. ERME PAINTED PONY, 15 months old. The bitch C.C. went to Mrs. Stringer's SIRDEEDE OF HORSLEY, 17 month red and white who also won her Junior Warrant on that day. Reserve C.C. dog was Mrs. Stringer's black and white SIR CECILTAR OF HORSLEY and in bitches Mrs. Butterworth's SONG BIRD OF ORLANDOS. Other first prize were Mrs. Stringer's black and white SIRVETAR OF HORSLEY in Novice, and Mrs. Butterworth's SYMBOL OF ORLANDOS in Yearling (between one and two years old). This show was on April 3rd.

The next show took place on April 24, at Boddington Manor, near Cheltenham - the first of the season's open air shows. Here there was an entry of almost 10 per class for the judge, noted all-rounder and gun-dog specialist, Mr. Frank Warner Hill. C.C. winner here were the same as at Edinburgh, SIRDEEDE OF HORSLEY once more taking Best of Breed, Reserve C.C. in dogs was Mason's REDESGARTH DAVIOT, and in bitches, White's DORMTIKI QUOTA AZENDA. Other first prize winners were: Junior (under 18 months), Cardew's ST. ERME KIPUSHA; Novice, Butterworth's SONG BIRD OF ORLANDOS (bitch); Graduate, Ellis's tri-colour dog KHAN OF BASENLAKE.

At the next show, Leeds Championship show, held on the 30th of May, there was for the first time this year a breeder judge in the person of Mrs. C. M. Graham. It was also the first championship show appointment for Mrs. Graham, although, of course, she had served an apprenticeship by judging the breed at a number of Open shows. She must have been delighted to receive what was for this show, a record entry of 94 - an average of over 13 per class. Best of Breed went to the well-known tri bitch, Mrs. Gallagher's CH. ILONA OF MOCHI, piling up the C. C's. after a very long run of Reserves. The dog C.C. was the first by a comparatively new exhibitor and was won by Allen's red and white yearling, M'KOKO OF THE BAYENZI. Reserve C.C. in bitches was won from the Novice class by Diemell's SURREY OF NIANGARA. The winner of the Reserve C.C. in dogs was another making his debut - Macolm's REDESGARTH DENNY. Mrs. Cardew's ST. ERME PAINTED PONY won the Open dog class.

It was back to all-rounder judges for the next show at the beginning of June. The Chester Championship show where Mr. Jack Bower, well-known in terrier circles judged an entry of slightly more than 8 per class. Best of Breed at this show was Berry's CH. TOPFLIGHT OF SIN, with Reserve C.C. in dogs going to Ellis's tri KHAN OF BASENLAKE. The bitch C.C. (her second) was won by Bowers' DOMEWOOD PSYCHE, with Reserve C.C. to the same owner, THE ARDENT WOOFER OF DOMEWOOD. The Puppy and Novice classes were won by Stringer's SIREUNICE OF HORSLEY, and the Graduate and

THE MAGNOLIA BASENJI CLUB

by Betty T. Hoghland
13256 108th Avenue North, Largo, Florida 33540

Since Mrs. Agness Wood has returned to Virginia, I will again try to bring you the MBC news.

On July 1, a 7 pound, 10 ounce son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Eric Josephson (Delphi Basenjis) of Tampa, Florida.

Our editor informs me of a number of requests on how to groom and show a Basenji. For this first phase, I will take you back to the November 1964 issue and reprint the article, "Some Tips on Grooming," by George C. Jones, III, of Atlanta, Georgia, from his early column, "Southern Exposure."

SOME TIPS ON GROOMING

"Taking a well groomed Basenji into the show ring is just as important as his conformation - if he is to win. Being a breed possessing very short hair, the Basenji is relatively easy to groom, and should take no more than fifteen to thirty minutes to prepare for the ring, assuming of course that the dog is clean. First I always start with the nails, and for this, I use the Resco nail cutter which is far superior to anything I have tried, and makes a nice, clean, even cut. Here however,

SPEARWOOD QUESTT O'SUNTRECE

(Ch. Spearwood Dancing Red Deer x
Ch. Spearwood Bedazzle of Bakuba)

In March, while on the Texas circuit with her friend and breeder Ragna Spears, SUNTRECE was Winners Bitch three times, including a 3-point major and Best of Opposite Sex over two specials. In Washington in April, She was Winners Bitch under K. McDonald and T. Quilley. In May, a 3-point major under O. C. Harriman, giving her a total of 13 points, both majors. Owner: Sandra J. Plutchak, 655 S.W. Herbert, Corvallis, Oregon 97330.

care must be taken not to remove too much of the nail. I always try to "hit" the quick, but never go beyond it. If the nails do bleed, the bleeding can be stopped by applying iron sulphate powder, or if that is not readily available, any powder (such as talcum) will work almost equally as effectively. From the nails, I go to the head and muzzle, where all whiskers must be removed. For this, I use a pair of Oster electric clippers, Model #A2, with a #30 blade attachment. After removing the whiskers, I use these same clippers and completely take all hair from the inside of the ears, and the backs of pasterns. To those of you who do not wish to invest in the Oster clippers (about $50) a pair of manicuring scissors with curved edges will do the job with less speed. Here in the Deep South, we are not troubled by the untypical heavy coated Basenjis that are common in some areas. The thick undercoat can be taken out by using a Resco (or other make) stripping knife. This however, takes considerable patience on both the groomer and the dog. Next, comes the chalking. I have used many different brands of chalk, but have found nothing that comes even close to "French White" in (block form), manufactured by R. C. Steele Company in Park Ridge, New Jersey, as far as quality is concerned. The chalk is worked into all parts of the dog's coat where there is white, and then must be removed, using a small stiff brush, making certain that no chalk remains in the coat, as this can disqualify the dog in the ring. That just about covers it, except for a final touch of adding a small amount of oil to the dog's coat for added sheen. Here, I recommend either Bain de Soliel (a suntan oil) or Alberto VO-5, the latter being less expensive, and both give about the same results. A small amount is rubbed into the palms of the hands, and then over the dog's coat.

Good luck to you and your Basenji in the show ring."

Next month will try to write on how to start your puppy on his way to his show career. Thanks, George for this one.

THE MAILBOX

From Carlene Carter
612 Menard Drive, Rockford, Illinois 61109

Since "The Basenji" must be read by each and every Basenji owner, this letter to the "Mailbox" is my initial step to voice an opinion on a matter I feel is important to all Basenji owners.

Being a novice Basenji owner, I am fascinated by all that can be learned about this relatively new breed. One of my enjoyable pastimes is the study of Basenji pedigrees, which leads me to what I feel is a problem - the use of the "Of The Congo" to name dogs which are not from Veronica Tudor-Williams' kennels.

While tracing my bitch's pedigree, I wrote to Miss Tudor-Williams concerning one bitch registered "-- of the Congo." Having read "Basenjis, The Barkless Dogs," I had assumed that all "of the Congo" Basenjis were from her kennel. You can imagine my surprise to learn that this is not true! As Miss Tudor-Williams explained, any owner can use "of the Congo" when naming his dog. I was surprised even further to learn that Miss Tudor-Williams is not allowed to register her kennel name with the American Kennel Club because she is from another country. This is truly a shame after all she has done for the Basenji breed.

I realize that often newcomers to the breed are unfamiliar with all Veronica Tudor-Williams has done as well as being unfamiliar with any kennel names other than the one from which they purchased a puppy. Shouldn't some steps be taken against naming just any dog "of the Congo?"

Perhaps the first step should be an exception made by the American Kennel Club not to allow anyone to register a Basenji as "of the Congo" unless Veronica Tudor-Williams is the breeder. Certainly there are other examples of infringing on an established name whether it be a kennel name or a frequently used term. Perhaps some kennels feel this makes their kennel widely advertised, but what about the person purchasing an inferior dog and using a well-known name; thus doing damage not only to the breed but one particular kennel!

Secondly, the Basenji breeders who should be better informed, could explain to new purchasers a few fundamentals of becoming better acquainted with the breed. Anyone who is familiar with "Basenjis The Barkless Dogs," and through "The Basenji," kennels should refrain from "stepping on toes" by trying to duplicate a name which could prove misleading.

Anyone who is the proud owner of a Basenji should be imaginative enough to choose a new and catchy name of their own. It would be a lot less confusing for pedigree study. . .

From Marie Ficks
5600 Hill Road, Boise, Idaho 83703

Most authorities on dogs claim that the Saluki probably is the oldest known dog. I, for one, have always questioned this, preferring to think the Basenji as the oldest, having lived among African natives who had no means of keeping records of the dogs. Now I have run across a statement supporting, if not accepting, my idea in "The World of Dogs," by Josephine Z. Rine, page 23, the author says that prehistoric dog could not bark, but it howled. This changed into a chortle, the intermediate vocalization. Then, the author states, the modern bark developed. It seems probable to me that a dog such as the Australian Dingo who can only howl would represent the first stage of vocalization, the Basenji representing the second stage, Telomian dogs (mentioned in the February 1970 issue)

Haere Mai From Kiwi Land

by Pam Tregurtha
103 Pinehaven Road, Upper Hutt, New Zealand

Basenji litters have been arriving fast since my last notes, and excitement is running high in the Wellington area with more puppies being bred than ever before. Our own crazy household is 7 puppies richer. Our 3 1/2 year old son Lance is enthralled with the whole procedure. Informed his daddy the other night that he had a sore tummy. "I think I've got some puppies in there," he diagnosed solemnly.

Betty McMillan bred her tri BABY TRI IMPALA to ST. ERME MR. POLLY, and in the resulting litter were the first two tri-colours MR. POLLY has produced. Flora King from Golden Downs, reports the safe arrival of a litter by FULA-KIWI and KANDY OF KARIBA, including her first black and white. These recessive black and whites which develop some tan on maturity are cropping up fairly regularly in New Zealand. In fact, they seem to appear as frequently as tris.

While on the subject of colour, and now referring to red and whites, we personally found it difficult to predict the eventual coat colour on maturity. For example, taking two litters last year, one dog who has since sported the most wonderful orange/red coat; we have noted in our dog diary as being rather pale at birth. In the other litter, one bitch was almost black at birth, in fact, the first two days after birth we had difficulty in distinguishing her from a bitch which was black. She now has a brilliant orange/red coat too. It would be interesting to hear from other breeders on this subject.

In the latest New Zealand Kennel Gazette, there is a Statistics Table for all breeds registered during April 1, 1969 to March 31, 1970. Out of 79 breeds listed, Basenjis are in 27th place with 95 registrations for the year. Total registrations for all breeds are 10,405.

The Basenji Club of Nebraska

by Dave and Kay Thorndike

This has indeed been a busy year. Besides our usual club activities, we have been busy making plans and carrying out projects for the 1970 Midwest BCOA Specialty, to be held in Omaha, November 22.

We are delighted to announce that we have an excellent program planned for the dinner preceding the show. Joyce Mullis is flying over from England to be our guest speaker; I know everyone is looking forward to hearing her and seeing the slides she is bringing with her from her travels. The dinner will be on Saturday evening and the cost will be approximately $5 per person. Watch this column for the exact time, place and price.

The Basenji Club of Nebraska will provide maps of the city of Omaha, showing the show site, the banquet location and motels on 72nd Street, including the Holiday Inn. These will be available at the Lincoln show on Saturday, and also at the desk of the Holiday Inn. Or anyone who wants one can send us a self-addressed envelope and we will mail you one.

A block of rooms has been reserved at the Holiday Inn on 72nd Street. When making reservations, please mention the Midwest BCOA Specialty. There is also a Howard Johnson's right across from the Holiday. Show site and dinner location will be easy to reach from this area.

The Heart O'Northland Basenji Club has been kind to offer us the use of their publicity board and the decoration which they use for the Minneapolis benched show. This will make a very pleasant addition to our "Basenji Village" at the show. In addition, Marilyn Stefanec is again going to make the clever name tags for the dinner which she made for the Kansas City specialty last year.

BASENJS IN FRANCE

by Genie Rundle

Domaine d'Alverne, 06 Berre-les-Alpes, France

I was just finishing a letter to one of my American friends when the phone rang. At the other end of the line was Patricia Dhorne, phoning from Nice Airport before taking a plane to Barcelona with CLIPPER, GLOW and a Chihuahua. She had forgotten GLOW'S rabies certificate, vital for entry to Spain. It was too late for anyone to get the certificate down to her in time to catch the only plane of the day.

"Leave GLOW behind," I told her. But the authorities had insisted there was little chance of GLOW being impounded, particularly as it was a dog show, so I was told not to "casser la tete" - a message would go through to customs in Barcelona and all would be well.

The only trouble was, it was noon and everyone seemed to have forgotten that in Spain on summer afternoons nothing happens but 'la siesta,' and no one and nothing functions for several hours.

Patricia went blissfully on, confident and dreaming of four lovely days in a country she hadn't visited before, and with only a few cool evening hours during the three days when the dogs had to be present at the show grounds. It was fiesta time, and it never occurred to her that anyone would doubt her integrity. With three pedigreed show dogs, obviously in the prime of health she never imagined anyone would question her forgetfulness, for it was nothing more.

That same day, France's General De Gaulle was also arriving in Spain. At the other end - and by car. I could not help wondering if formalities had perhaps been tightened up for a time because poor GLOW was impounded and never saw the show at Barcelona - neither did CLIPPER or the Chihuahua. They returned the next evening and all that had been at stake was lost before it had begun. Poor GLOW - luck really seems to bypass her this year although she did win her first GAC and CACIB certificates at Perpignan with her litter sister BAMBI going reserve.

Had a visit the other day from a Frenchman who claims he saw his first Basenji in Nice some thirty years ago. Upon recommendation from Maire of Berre (member of The Basenji Club of France), he had taken the trouble to visit us so he could see our dogs and compare them with the original. This dog, he told us, was easily twice the size of SIMBA and belonged to an Englishman who had brought him out of Africa. The dog was said to have been about 6 years old at the time, was barkless and known at that time by the name, "Basenji." It was courageous and strong enough to fight lions. I had heard this claim on previous occasions, but had ceased to quote it after my Belgian friends had told me about the "Balikwekwe" who never hunted anything bigger than an antelope. To my query about Basenjis tackling a lion they had quite firmly refuted any such possibility, telling me with precision that the 'Lion Dog' was the Rhodesian Ridgeback. Now I'm wondering all over again and am finding it increasingly difficult to answer questions put to me. If only one of those ancient and illustrious Pharaohs would arise from his tomb and tell us just whether his favourite dog barked or not. It might help!

I am reminded here of another interesting detail supplied by Mr. G. de Josselin who is convinced that the Basenji doesn't exist! He is prepared to consider the possibility of there being something similar and tells me he has seen them in the Uganda territory where they live (or did live), with their native owners who belonged to the Pygmy tribe known as the B'Senghi - and hence our word "Basenji" which is merely a deviation from the African. Personally, I am more inclined to believe what Mrs. Marie Ficks tells us in her interesting letter in the Mailbox of the May issue. She seems to be one of the few persons who has been able to prove a point, or are we all inclined to believe what suits us, I wonder!

Here is an additional item of news concerning the classification of Basenjis in Italy. In reply to a letter which I wrote to Italian Kennel Club, after learning of the switch over, their letter addressed to me states that during the remaining months of 1970, the Basenji will continue to be judged as a hound, but from 1971 Italy will adopt the new regulation laid down by the FCI. It will become a terrier, so keep those letters (continued on page 13)

VETERINARY JOURNAL

by William J. Bone, D.V.M.

DIABETES CAN BE PROBLEM FOR PETS

Diabetes in dogs and cats is the same disease which occurs in humans, but with less frequency. It has been estimated that approximately one dog out of a thousand, and perhaps a little higher figure for the cat, has diabetes.

Many people refer to diabetes as "sugar diabetes," and since there are two types of the disorder, we will be concerned here with the type commonly known as sugar diabetes. The other type is more rare and will be discussed in a later column.

The result of diabetes is an elevation in the sugar content of the blood. The reason the blood sugar rises is a decrease in the amount of insulin secreted. Insulin is an enzyme secreted by the pancreas and necessary for the metabolism of sugar in the body.

When the pancreas is no longer able to secrete enough insulin to metabolize the sugar then the sugar content begins to rise. As the sugar content rises it eventually reaches a level where the excess sugar is eliminated in the urine. This is the body's way of trying to compensate for the increase of sugar and to maintain a normal system.

SUGAR CAN'T BE ELIMINATED

The urine is capable of carrying away some of the sugar but, with most diabetics, this is only a transitory help because, as the pancreas continues to degenerate, the kidneys are not capable of eliminating the sugar as fast as the body makes it. If this condition continues without detection, the animal will eventually go into diabetic coma and die.

In dogs, the most commonly affected animals are the older, spayed females. In the cat, the most commonly affected are the older neutered males. However, younger animals can also be affected.

Symptoms of diabetes vary according to the stage of the disease, however, there are some fairly constant symptoms that are present in a majority of the cases. Among the symptoms are an increased appetite with a concurrent loss of weight, or an increase in the size of the abdomen with weight loss elsewhere. Water consumption increases and the animal may urinate while sleeping without being aware of the act. Vomiting is a symptom that is usually reserved for the very sick animal and by this time the appetite is usually depressed or completely absent. Some animals may show none of these symptoms and become sick very suddenly after a slow, but gradual decline in activity and vitality.

DIABETES DIAGNOSIS SIMPLE

Diagnosis of diabetes is simple and requires only a urine sample. While there are other conditions that may cause sugar to appear in the urine, by far the most common cause is diabetes. A follow-up test on the blood is then indicated to make an accurate diagnosis and to determine the extent of the disease. After the diagnosis has been made it is then necessary to institute a course of treatment aimed at replacing the insulin, regulating the amount of carbohydrates the animal consumes and adding liver protecting drugs to the diet.

The first step taken is to replace insulin so necessary for the metabolism of the sugar. Each animal's insulin requirement varies, the same as with humans. Therefore treatment begins by giving a low dosage insulin and checking the urine. The dosage is increased every day or two until the sugar begins to disappear from the urine, but not until it disappears completely, because it is necessary to keep a small amount of sugar in the urine for testing purposes.

Another important aspect of treatment is diet control. It is now known that it is most important to arrive at a stabil-

REPORT FROM THE BASENJI CLUB OF CANADA
FIRST WESTERN SPECIALTY

by Margaret Sonntag
6462 - 132nd Street, Surrey, British Columbia

The first Basenji Club of Canada Western Specialty was held, June 27, with 37 entries - 12 dogs, 13 bitches, 11 specials and 1 veteran. Judging started at 4: P.M. Winners Dog went to Ann and E. R. Cook's AM. CH. COOK'S TSHOMBE OF BAKUBA, Reserve Winners Dog was Mrs. H. Baldwin's KWAHERI'S NARIABO. Winners Bitch and Best of Winners was Edith A. Boehmer's MISS RUSTY RED OF VAH-KI, Reserve Bitch went to Nancy and Ruth Park's NAPTALI'S EBONY FAIYUM. Best of Breed was Al Vix and Donna Spencer's CH. ZAMBESI RINGLE JINGLE who also won Best Canadian Bred, and Best Canadian Bred Puppy. Best of Opposite Sex was Mrs. Peter Williams' CH. KARI BUNI SIKUZOTE TAYARI. Veteran's Class went to Ron and Ann Fanning's CH. DRUMADOON DAZZLE. American Bred Puppy was Donna Allan's MCGOVERN'S ODARU OF ADONIS. American Bred went to AM. CH. COOK'S TSHOMBE OF BAKUBA. Brace Class was won by Melody Russell's ROMEL'S CHORISTER and ROMEL'S CHARISMA. Junior Puppy Dog was the Sonntag's TANGEE JINADOE BOMBA. Junior Puppy Bitch was the Sonntag's TANGEE JINADOE BADERA. There was a trophy offered to the person coming the greatest distance, this was won by Malcolm E. MacDonald who came to the show all the way from St. Johns, New Brunswick.

There was a barbecue supper for all Basenjites and friends after the show, held at Bob and Lois Waters' beautiful country home.

When asked to comment on the show, our most capable judge, Mrs. Winnifred Heckman said that the general over-all type of dogs entered was good, as good as any other part of the country. She also commented on the general good temperament of the dogs in the show, also the cleanliness of the building, and the friendly, warm atmosphere of the show.

It is our pleasure to thank one and all who participated in our very first Western Basenji Specialty and sincerely hope everyone had a good time and will come back again soon.

We would also like to extend a special thanks to our judge, Mrs. Winnifred Heckman and our able ring steward, Mrs. Lois Waters for a job well done.

flowing, won't you? And a thousand thanks to all who have so kindly helped already in every sort of way to protect our breed. We need letters and petitions, particularly from club chairmen in every country where the Basenji is loved, and these we need before next year, so if by chance any of you have considered it might be best to wait awhile and watch developments, please think again.

You can buy rawhide bones in this country now and I find they certainly help, but a Basenji size cost $2 each and they get through one a day with ease. It's cheaper to buy them antiques at that rate!

who can make all the sounds the Basenji can, and who can also bark, would come a little later. Then the modern barking dog would evolve. This would make the Saluki, the Norwegian Elkhound, the Afghan, and the other ancient breeds much newer than the Basenji, as they bark only.

If anyone has run across a statement supporting, or opposing my theory, I would like to know about it.

THE WESTMINSTER KENNEL CLUB
CHANGES ITS ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

The Westminster Kennel Club has changed the entry requirements for its 1971 show to be held February 15 and 16, at Madison Square Garden

Dogs that have been credited with one or more championship points will be eligible for entry at the 95th consecutive annual Westminster Dog Show. A major point rating was required at the 1969 and 1970 shows.

The Dog Show Committee of The Westminster Kennel Club stated that: "Although we want to preserve the quality of our entry, we do not want our entry requirements to foreclose the possibility of as many dogs as we can accommodate to be entered at Westminster. We believe from our last show that we can conveniently handle up to 1,500 dogs per day, and that is what we hope to achieve by changing the entry requirements.

The total entry will be limited to 3,000 dogs. The two-day format initiated at the last Westminster will again be used. Dogs in the Working, Terrier and Non-Sporting groups will be benched and judged on Monday, and dogs in the Sporting, Hound and Toy groups will be benched and judged on Tuesday.

CAPITOL PAW PRINTS

by Marvin G. Wallis

5014 Mendell Street, Fairfax, Virginia 22030

I have been receiving a bit of mail with a mention that the writer has been reading this column, so my thanks to all of you who have written - both of you! Actually there have been several who have written for one reason or another and here is a sample which I quote in its entirety, received on a postal card which had not been postmarked: "Since you are pretty good at conducting contests - (I am?), why not find out what most Basenji owners consider the proper diet. Mine eats anything not nailed down. And he's untrustworthy for sure." And it was signed simply, "Harassed. P.S. Like your column!"

I feel a bit like "Dear Abby" in replying to this one, but here goes - Dear Harassed, whoever you may be or in whatever exotic, classified locale you might be located, your question was passed on to the readers and now we'll just wait and see what replies will come in. This could be an interesting topic as I know a number of breeders and none of them feed their animals the same diet. Similar, but not the same.

I also received a comment regarding umbilical hernias from Vada Zornick who enclosed items from several sources regarding this subject. The sources were page 72 of Veronica Tudor-Williams' book, "Basenjis The Barkless Dogs;" the Basenji column of Walter Philo in the March 1960 issue of "Pure-Bred Dogs, The AKC Gazette;" and an item by Norm Wallace in the November 1965 issue of "The Basenji." I had thought this information was generally known, but we often forget that there are new fanciers joining us each month and these may not have had the exposure yet. I shall attempt to summarize the information in the three publications so that the newer ones will be exposed and the old timers will be re-inoculated.

Umbilical hernias are rather common in Basenjis, becoming noticeable at several weeks of age. These have the appearance of small lumps in the area a puppy would have a navel. This may often be reduced or eliminated by placing the puppy on his back and gently pressing the lump back through the abdominal wall. This will have to be done a number of times until the muscles gain enough strength to retain the lump and seal it inside. If not attended to, the lump may grow to a thumb-sized lump in the adult. It may be removed by surgery and will be shown as a fatty lump. In a few cases, this may be a serious problem should the intestines protrude through the opening. If this occurs and the muscles strengthen, it is possible to close the intestinal passage and death will result. Obviously this type of umbilical hernia needs veterinary attention as soon as possible. With experience one may be able to determine the difference himself, otherwise rely on your veterinarian.

Walter Philo quoted Dr. James Chapin of the American Museum of Natural History as saying that the standard of the Pygmies' Basenji Fanciers Association of the Ituri Forest indicated that the larger the hernia, the handsomer the dog! The English, Canadian and American standards ignore the subject as do most judges. If ringside spectators seem rather upset about the appearance of the protuberance, you might tell them it was a purse for the dog's mad money.

When one watches the vigor with which the bitch works at the sac enclosing the puppy and at the strength required to tear it to release the puppy, it isn't too surprising that such things happen.

Your interest is appreciated and any topics or questions proposed will be considered. Your interest is necessary for a good magazine. Condemnation isn't bad either - maybe it serves to get us off dead center - or some other dead portion of our anatomy.

REGISTER OF MERIT

The unofficial list appearing below shows the number of American champions produced by the stud. The number in parenthesis indicates the number of obedience titled get which that stud has to his credit. My records are complete through the May 1970 issue of the A.K.C. Gazette.

The cut-off is placed at five champions. Champions in other countries are not counted because I don't have records for other countries. Any errors of omission or commission are mine alone.

Adding the most champion get (6) since the last publication of the register was the already undisputed leader of the field CH. CAMBRIA'S TI-MUNGAI. Not too shabby for an "old man." I want to welcome three newcomers to the list: CH. FULA HAZARD OF THE CONGO and CH. PEREGRINE OF ROSSANTY starting out with 7 champions each, and CH. PHEMISTER'S DRUMMER BOY with 5.

Here's how they line up:

Ramblin' With Grannie Green

by Evelyn M. Green

Box 3221, North Station, Meridian, Mississippi 39301

"What has happened to the Basenji's wrinkles?" was one of the first questions asked of me when I interviewed Judge Ernest L. Masson of New Orleans, following his judging assignment at the Meri-Miss Kennel Club show, held on May 31, 1970, in Meridian, Mississippi.

It's a little difficult to explain to one who has not owned or bred Basenjis that our breed wears his wrinkles as humans do a frown or a smile. They are a facial expression, and a Basenji with the "mostest" can be bland when he chooses. Unfortunately he sometimes fails to oblige at the crucial moment.

Perhaps someone more versatile than I at repartee could have come up with a quick answer. I've seen this happen again and again, particularly in the show ring. A dog will appear devoid of wrinkles one moment, then his ring duties having been fulfilled, his wrinkles return full force. Now how do you explain that to a judge? I didn't!

Despite my having flunked the judge's first question, my interview with Mr. Masson was a delight. This is a learned man. Whatever he undertakes, whether it be in his profession of restaurateur or in his judging, it is done with profound and deliberate action. Even in casual conversation, Mr. Masson is not given to glibness. One finds himself bending to catch his soft spoken words.

It came my turn to interrogate the judge. His answers were deliberate and to the point. Mr. Masson feels strongly that sturdiness is an important quality in the breed. Next, movement, along with conformation, and in size to the standard is important. This he measures with his hands when he judges. To him, color is immaterial.

Whatever the breed, Mr. Masson emphasized that one must talk to his dog — communicate with him. As to breeding methods, he believes in what he personally practiced in his breeding and exhibiting days — genetics. We spoke generally of selective breeding to weed out faults, to strengthen good qualities, and the dangers of inbreeding too strongly toward good points. He reminded the writer that it is the dam who is dominant.

"Too many people today are in dogs for the money," the judge commented, "and care too little for producing sound dogs which conform to the standard." I am in complete accord with his views.

Mr. Masson came of a family of dog lovers. His father was a "Collie man." Following his marriage, Mr. Masson's bride who had never owned a dog, told him that she'd like a Scottish Terrier as a gift. So on the day their first son was born, Mr. Masson received word from a prominent Mississippi breeder that he had a puppy for him.

In 1930, the Massons ventured into breeding Smooth Dachshunds and upon retirement as breeders, had finished 22 champions. Mr. Masson thoroughly enjoys judging. Although he has not bred or shown dogs for a number of years, he speaks proudly of Mrs. Masson's Miniature Wirehaired Dachshund who accompanies them on most of his assignments.

As we concluded the interview, Mr. Masson invited me to visit his restaurant on my next visit to New Orleans. I was already aware that Masson's Restaurant Francais on Ponchartrain Boulevard is famed for its fine French cuisine.

Thoughts Provokin'

by A. B. Reeder

ON THOUGHTLESSNESS

A recent trip to the grocery store revealed many things on man-unkind. A long line stretched back from the "express" check-out, waiting for a woman in shorts to finish her check-out. After all purchases were rung up, the cashier told her the amount due. She said, "How much is it?" And the reply was "$2.60." With that the woman wrote a check for $15.00!! A similar thing happened once more before I reached the cashier. I also noticed that a great number of women were there in shorts or slacks, and wearing curlers in their hair. Obviously they were not on their way home from work as I was. The grey-haired woman behind me made some comment about the check cashing routine to the effect that it was peculiar that the women had not had their checks OK'd before getting into line - and why ask how much when they were writing checks considerably higher in value than the merchandise purchased. I agreed and wondered aloud about the number of women waiting until the rush-hour before shopping. The grey-haired woman agreed with my thoughts - although she was also attired in shorts and knit blouse. Actually, a poor choice of clothes for her figure!! Why are people so unthinking? Downtown shoppers always seem to wait until the rush-hour before heading for home - which increases an already huge traffic problem.

Obtaining service on one's automobile also reveals some intriguing thoughts on the part of service personnel. When they follow the manufacturer's service coupon to "check radiator," or "check windshield washer reservoir," this seems to mean to the mechanic to open the hood and see if the item is still attached to the vehicle. No one seems to bother replenishing the supply, if low. If they are so lax in their service on such simple matters, what does happen when a major item is involved, or have you ever considered that?

Government offices are no better. Drivers licenses, auto tags, etc., in many states must be obtained by appearing in person. And they are always open "for your convenience" between the hours of 8:30 A.M. and 4:P.M. - Monday through Friday. And it is very convenient, isn't it? Simply take some time off from your work. Has anyone ever considered that this means a drop in your income - and, incidentally, a drop in taxes received by the government also.

Dog show people, of course, are not this sort. They always think, don't they? Notice the obedience people demanding absolute quiet around their ring, but also notice their loud shouts of command and applause, etc., which could possibly affect dogs in the conformation rings. And have you ever walked your dog with a short lead only to have someone who has their dog on a long lead snarling at you to "Watch your dog!"

Parking is wonderful at dog shows. It is so convenient, especially when there are no attendants keeping you from parking close to the rings in which you may be showing. They usually send you as far away from where you'd like to go as is possible. And when the attendants are away for some reason, isn't it much nicer? Especially when you go back to your car to leave, knowing that you were in the second row and could back out, however, something has happened - you find you are in the middle of a three row parking lane, with cars fore-and-aft of you. And the public address system is inadequate. Of course, dog show people aren't thoughtless - about themselves.

Superintendents and show secretaries are in the same category. Often you will find your breed the first judged - at 8 or 9 o'clock - at every show! Don't any of the other breeds rate an early showing? And how about the club that is having your breed's specialty show and you have the largest or second largest entry at the show. You usually end up benched as far away from the exhibiting ring as is possible.

Entry fees, food and drink costs, etc., are obviously the result of some very careful thinking - to charge as much as possible! And prize money has had careful thought also, but of a reverse nature, to give as little as possible. Many clubs keep insisting on making a profit on each and every show to allow their treasury to grow, but they have no plans for any of the money they have on hand which sometimes runs to several thousand dollars. Lest you feel this an uncalled for remark, I hasten to add that it is necessary for a show giving club to have a certain reserve in the event of a losing show - but 4, or 5, or more thousand dollars? With no plans for using the money?

Choosing judges to suit their own wants rather than judges who will properly judge all dogs (including those from the non-local area which are usually in the great majority) is also a common practice.

Wouldn't it be a much nicer world if all people thought? Of others, as well as of themselves? Try it sometime and see what happens. At least think about it. Many times we have said the same thing - and we shall continue to say it. In every phase of life - think! Through this column we hope you will see ways to do this. Or haven't you thought of it?

Limit classes by Juniper's TITIAN STAR OF TENKI.

Two shows which are eagerly awaited are Windsor show at the end of July which I hope to attend. There is usually a very good entry, many of the new puppies making their debut here, in perhaps the most delightful setting of any English show, and secondly, the specialist show of The Basenji Club of Great Britain - to be judged this year by breeder judge Fred Jones. I missed it last year because of my American trip. If any of our American friends contemplate a trip over here, these two shows occur within a week of each other, and are perhaps the most interesting and enjoyable of any for Basenji fanciers.

Jacqueline and I were extremely delighted recently to welcome Sue Hoyne of Sudatus Basenjis from Elgin, Illinois, who was here on holiday with her sister. We were able to manage a weekend together in spite of Sue's demanding itinerary. You can imagine there was much reminiscing about my very enjoyable trip to the States and about Basenji problems in general. How Sue managed a holiday I cannot think because she is one of those energetic people who manage to cram so much more into life than lethargic people like myself. In addition to a demanding job and her dogs, she is a commander in the Naval Reserves and is currently in process of planting a thousand trees in the grounds of her country home in Elgin! In addition to her Basenjis she has the most delightful Giant Schnauzer, whose antics with the more aloof Basenjis, we found very amusing during our stay with Sue last August.

LONDON LIMELIGHTS

by Joyce Mullis

Box 517, 7500 Squadron, APO New York 09125

August - the month when everyone will be turning their attention to the breeding season just around the corner. What stud to use, and for what reason. A universal puzzle to be pondered and worked out.

The real disaster during the stud season lies in not knowing what is behind your dam and stud, genetically speaking. Do you have adequate knowledge of the background of the contemplated mating? Do you have access to photographs of these ancestors? Photographs are a poor second, but at least, they are better than nothing.

I cringe at the thought of people not being aware of their dog's heritage. I can think of many dogs right now of very shady backgrounds and yet these dogs in their own right have outstanding conformation, and their show records prove that, beyond a shadow of a doubt. So where is the problem? It's in not realizing that in the same litter with "CH. SEE-ME," your potential stud or dam, there was a pure white Basenji, or a spotted Basenji, or a couple with hip problems, or grossly mismarked puppies. When "CH. SEE-ME" is bred, the puppies can have these same problems. I am not saying that "CH. SEE-ME" should not be bred. Quite the contrary - I am saying that it is the right of the potential litter owner to know that these problems exist. It is also the responsibility of the seller of any Basenji to inform the purchaser that certain problems are behind the intended purchase, and how to deal with these problems.

I was recently asked to intervene in a problem of this sort. A potential stud was about to be bred to a bitch that would in all probability have produced disastrous results. It was a clear case of the stud owner not being informed of the stud's background at the time of his initial purchase.

It is time Basenji breeders come out of their shells and accept the fact that we have certain breeding problems and that only positive action will overcome these problems. It is the universal attitude to hide from fellow breeders, the fact that you have produced black and white with tan, or hip problems, or eye abnormalities, or what have you. Don't hide these facts. Work with them. When it happens to you, don't curl up in terror and figure all the years of work have been wasted. Your breeding program is not going to produce any more (or less) of these problems than the next guy if you go about it intelligently. The difference is going to be in how you handle your problem. If you can't accept this situation, then for heaven's sake, don't breed!

My favorite hang-up these days is people who join a club, vowing to better the breed and uphold the standard and then in the next breath refuse to cooperate in the field of health and breeding problems.

Sorry to have got so worked up, but I figure I have another 40 to 50 years of breeding dogs ahead of me, and I just can't sit by and watch my chosen breed go down the drain because of a few people!

August marks six months on British soil and six months of glorious memories for Dion and me. By now we have gotten around to just about all of the Basenji breeders in this area, and have met the "Who's Who in Basenjies" and a few who aren't in Basenjies at all.

Next issue will be a report on two championship shows, The Hound Association show, with Judge Veronica Tudor-Williams, and Windsor, with Judge Mrs. Tress - her last assignment before leaving for her new home on Malta Island.

KNOW YOUR FELLOW JUNIORS

by Denise Craven

Route 2, Box 187-A, Mount Airy, Maryland 21771

I'm sorry I missed the last two months, but I had to cram for my French final. My mother has some silly rule about French first, then Basenjis. I always knew mothers were fickle! Anyway, I finally managed to get a "C."

This is the month for odds and ends. For our first item, a short composition:

CURING PUPPY PLUMBING, GONE AWRY

A common malady in young puppies is diarrhea. This is cured by a liquid medicine called "Diarrheze-B" or more commonly known as "pink medicine." Diarrhea is easy to cure but giving the cure is the hard part. It usually takes two people to administer the medicine. One person holds the puppy and the other gives the cure. The latter firmly opens the jaws of the puppy's mouth and pours the medicine down his gullet. He then slams the two closed and makes a lock-hold on the mouth. The pup then starts foaming like a rabid dog, except it is pink! This foam starts dripping on the owner's hands. The owner then promptly drops the dog, and the dog starts to madly shake his head and splatters the pink medicine on all within a two yard radius. Now if the person giving the medicine and the one who is holding the pup are smart, they will run insanely away.

More news from Canada. Janet Moffat's bitch CAN. CH. MERLEA AURORA DANCER went Best of Breed, third in group in March at the Edmonton show. She also won a Best of Opposite Sex, March 15.

A new Junior Handler in the Eastern area is Mark Hindin from Harrisburg, showing his young red and white dog, KHAJAH'S ADAM O'HANNA LORE.

A note on my summer activities of a dog obedience course through the local 4-H Club. I am training KASAI'S EBONY DIPLOMAT whom we call DIPPY. All I can say is that Basenjis are too noseey for their own good. Also DIPPY is a bit of a show-off. No matter how much I practice with him at home, he acts as though he has never been on a leash before. When we arrive at the 4-H class and begin to work with a group, he seems to do very well. The big climax for this course will be the 4-H fair the 17th of July. There will be judging on obedience, showmanship and grooming. I hope DIPPY and I have learned our lessons well. Good showing till next month!

Help Pup Stay Cool, Content in Hot Weather

by the Gaines Dog Research Center
250 North Street, White Plains, New York 10602

Cool it! Is good advice for man and beast during the coming months. Your dog will keep comfortable and in good condition during summer's hot weather. All he needs is a little assistance from you. First, protect him from over-exposure to sun and heat. Dog yards and other outside enclosures must have shade. Shrubs do the job nicely and most dogs enjoy living on the cool earth underneath low hanging branches.

Benches or platforms provide shade and are sun decks on cool days. Never leave your dog in a car parked in the sun or with the windows closed. Heat prostration or suffocation are very real dangers in such situations. When your dog is a passenger, look for shady parking spots and lower the windows two or three inches.

Fresh water is another summertime "must." If your dog tends to bloat himself on water, offer ice cubes instead, once in awhile. He'll refresh himself without filling up with liquid. Ice cubes are handy thirst quenchers during trips, especially for dogs prone to motion sickness.

On hot days, cool your dog by wetting him down or wiping his face and muzzle with a damp cloth. Be sure his coat is dry before bringing him inside if air conditioning causes a sudden drop in temperature.

Should a heavy coated dog be clipped in the summer? Some owners think the coat is natural insulation against heat, as well as cold. Other owners feel a heavy coat adds to the dog's discomfort and encourages skin parasites. The Center suggests a midway approach: thin or trim your profusely coated pet, if you wish. He may be cooler this way and will be easier to groom and keep parasite-free. Don't shave off his coat or clip it close to the skin, since this increases his vulnerability to the sun and biting insects.

Fleas and other skin parasites thrive in warm weather. As you brush the dog, ruffle his coat backwards against the skin to check for fleas and other pests. Try to spot them before the dog's scratching makes his condition obvious. Apply a good commercial parasiticide dip or power. Fleas can be removed from the coat with a fine-tooth comb. Also wash or replace the dog's bedding to eliminate parasite eggs that may be deposited in it.

Let your dog set his own pace. On hot days walk him in the early morning and evening when temperatures are coolest. Ask the children not to play too boisterously with their pet. Rough-housing or other exertion might bring on heat prostration. Be particularly cautious in this respect if your dog is old, overweight, or one of the short-muzzled breeds.

Heat prostration is indicated by excessively heavy breathing and panting, a glassy-eyed expression, lack of coordination and vomiting. Immediately get the dog in shade and sponge him with cool water. If he seems to be in serious trouble, put him in a tub of ice cold water, supporting his head above the surface. This, of course, is emergency first aid. Call your veterinarian for advice as soon as possible.

Hot weather may promote an indifferent appetite or digestive upsets. If your dog tends toward either condition, divide his daily meal into two or three portions. Smaller servings won't overload his stomach and may be more tempting to the dog.

He's much likelier to eat when offered foods with canine taste appeal. Soft-moist products are highly palatable and digestible, both "plus" benefits for summertime feeding. In summer, as any time of the year, your dog needs the total nutrition which soft-moist foods provide.

HEART O'NORTHLAND BASENJI CLUB

by Lu Schlichting, Route 2, Wadena, Minnesota 56482

The North Country has finally warmed up - even the Basenjies were panting today. Needless to say, so were we!

Everyone - make plans to come to Minnesota, August 29 for our annual fun match. It will be held in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area. A place hasn't been selected yet, but anyone wishing to come, contact me at the above address, or Gerry Jensen, 6017 2nd Avenue South, Minneapolis, Minnesota 55419. The trophy committee promises a full table and we also plan a raffle to raise funds for the club treasury. There will be something for everyone - conformation, obedience and junior handling. Hope to see you there!

Gerry Jensen and my family travelled to the Fargo, North Dakota show, May 31. Our biggest thrill was our two daughters in Junior Showmanship. Our youngest, only 9, won first place, and our oldest, age 11, won second. It was Kerry's second time in the ring. It helps to have spectators see young girls work their Basenjies so well.

RUTH'S ROUNDUP OF NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

by Ruth D. Shannon

605 Tina Way, Livermore, California 94550

We've had some of those nice people called Basenjies come by for short visits. Wish they all could have stayed longer. First Don and Peggy Murphie from Seattle came by for an evening of doggy chat. Peggy being from Tennessee, and I from Kentucky, it was just like home folks. But we talked of nothing but Basenjies. When it came time for them to leave, we felt we had known both Peggy and Don for years.

One day Sheila Smith from Seattle came by with Yvette, her son and younger daughter. Judy Zenner brought them over. They were greeted with gusto by our crew. Our Basenjies really are "people eaters!" I had met Sheila at the specialty and it was a pleasure to welcome her and the children into our home. Their visit was all too short as I can never get enough of Basenji talk.

Also had visits from Jack and Sandra Lauer, and the day of the Del Valle Fun Match, we had all the Basenji people over for donuts and coffee - 25 in all. It was one of Livermore's cool windy days and hot tea and coffee hit the spot.

May I take this opportunity to congratulate the Art Zenners and Dorothy Felton on the purchase of a grooming parlor called the "Clip Joint." Good luck with your new venture.

It will soon be time to select that stud again for that all important lady of yours. That is always a difficult decision, but be sure you select carefully. I've heard so many say, "I don't want to go out of my line although I have some faults that need correcting, I'm afraid I'll lose the good point mine possess." I don't know how others feel, but breeding at its best is a chance or gamble so why keep on breeding some poor aspects in order to save one good one?

We'll miss Kay Skevington Stewart who is now in Japan with her groom (he's Air Force). Kay was always available to "Basenji sit" for us when we would only take part of them to a show. I'm sure Kay would appreciate any letters from Basenji owners.

Don't forget that Western Specialty - see you all there!

The following Saturday, I attended the Wayzata show, and really enjoyed the day. Met people from Kansas City and club members from Omaha and Iowa who I hadn't seen in a long time. That evening we all gathered at the Jensen home for a club meeting and a social time.

A CHANCE ENCOUNTER

by Mrs. C. W. White

Dormtiki, Old Mill Lane, Bray, Berkshire, England

Whilst walking my Basenji hounds through a disused quarry yesterday, a wild duck suddenly arose from the marshes and appeared badly hurt. Both dogs pursued her and all disappeared at top speed at the extreme end of the quarry. So convinced was I that the duck was injured and would undoubtedly be caught, that I hurried as fast as my small son would let me. To my astonishment I saw the duck flying back at low level and realized in a flash that her young must be somewhere exposed in the quarry and that she had made a fool of me in the bargain.

This little drama so intrigued me that I returned to the marshes where I was shortly joined by my pair of panting hounds. Lo and behold, we were swiftly joined by the duck who again feigned bad injury - skidding just ahead of the dogs in a semi-flight, one wing drooping.

When she thought fit to return, I noticed that she flew at low level before suddenly soaring upwards over the safety of weeds and heavy undergrowth surrounding the larger pools within the quarry. Three times she repeated this manoeuvre and always she soared upwards at exactly the same spot. In between she repeated her performance of mock injury in front of the dogs.

Standing as I was on a hillock in order to assess the scene, I perceived the final and miraculous manoeuvre. The duck led the dogs out of the quarry and deep into the woods beyond. She then returned at top speed, repeated her soaring upwards and over the safe marshes and to my joy, I watched three young ducklings hurry from the centre of the quarry in the direction indicated by their mother and thence to safety.

BASENJI CLUB OF CINCINNATI

by Doris Kukuk

738 Cascade Road, Cincinnati, Ohio 45240

The luncheon furnished for Basenji exhibitors and friends, following the Cincinnati show, May 31, was a huge success in spite of rain and grey skies. Twenty-seven adults and six children partook of the delicious hot dogs so ably cooked by Hugh Andrews.

The June meeting was a conformation workshop held in the Kukuk's back yard. It was designed to help the novice Basenji owner who is interested in showing, and to encourage entries at the Florence, Kentucky show. We are working hard for a major show.

Rita and Clarke Ross and Bill Kukuk acted as a demonstration team and judges in mock ring procedure. We had a very encouraging group of 11 Basenjis and 17 humans. The puppy crop that is making their debuts are really impressive.

Next on the club's agenda is another luncheon for Basenji exhibitors following the Florence, Kentucky judging. Our entertainment committee would be interested in exchanging ideas with other clubs for entertainment for the winter months.

Immediately I called my dogs to heel, marvelling at this miracle and especially at the interpretation of the young to follow the direction clearly indicated by their mother's manoeuvres.

The greatest wonder of it all was that not once did I hear a single "cheep" or sound to betray them, and I returned home marvelling and refreshed to have witnessed such pure manifestation of love and devotion amidst the turmoils of existence.

ASHCREST ADONIS DE BETSY ROSS and
ASHCREST AEGINA DE BETSY ROSS

(by Ch. Betsy Ross' Kingola of Ber Vic
X Ch. Betsy Ross' April Amneris)

Both are pictured going WD-BOW and WB at the Wilmington, Delaware Kennel Club show, April 25, 1970, under Judge Wallace H. Pede. After two double wins from the puppy classes, including the 1969 BCOA Eastern Specialty, DONNY and JEANNIE are continuing the trend in open and winners classes. Most recent wins are WD-BOS and WB-BOW at the Upper Marlboro Kennel Club show, under Judge Wilfred Boyer.

They seek show homes only

DONNY is a proven stud and has his first major (Wilmington). Two of their sisters are also available.

Atlanta are really coming along. Ross Dwinells has kindly consented to judge the Puppy Sweepstakes, so be sure to bring them along. The trophy fund is growing but we do need a lot more. We're expecting a record entry and would like to have an impressive array of trophies. Please send your checks payable to George C. Jones III, 31 Golf Circle Northeast, Atlanta, Georgia 30309.

A block of rooms has been reserved at the Holiday Inn-South, on Interstate 75. All rooms are on the ground floor and have just recently been remodeled. The motel is one exit from the show site. We will have a pre-show banquet at the motel, cocktail hour at 7 P. M., dinner at 8. Dinner will be buffet, including meat, fish, fowl, two vegetables, salad and dessert, all for only $4.75. As I mentioned before, there will be a short skit following dinner.

If you make reservations for the motel rooms, (single room for one - $10, single room for two - $15, and double room - $17), directly to the Holiday Inn, ask for the reservation manager, Sue Westburg and mention the Greater Atlanta Basenji Club. Otherwise, reservation for rooms and the dinner are being taken by our reservation chairman, Mrs. Donna Snoderly, 3814 Ensign Drive, Chamblee, Georgia 30341, telephone: 404, 457-7796. Please send checks payable to her.

THE GREATER ATLANTA BASENJI CLUB

by Kathy Kent, Lake Sidney Lanier, Georgia

Here we are going on our fourth week on Lake Sidney Lanier, about 54 miles from Atlanta. Les (my husband) and I are having an extended vacation on an island right in the middle of the lake in a tent.

The tent holds the Basenji crates, our beds and privacy for dressing. All other "rooms" are found in various areas of the island. It's been an enlightening experience for us all. Our Basenjis (one male, four females) have exhibited a liking for water that was never obvious before in the bath tub. I don't mean they jump in every day for a swim, but if they need to swim out to someone, they do.

We've seen more bark chewing, rock gnawing and root eating than ever before. They bring all chewables to one area of the island and there you will find the debris of the day's hunt. Each day they check and re-check the area for edible items they might have missed before. The area is on the leeward side of the island and is sunny all day.

Island life must be good for the Basenjis as even my thinnest bitch has filled out with muscles and they all have vivid red coats. Our male is unproclaimed king of the island. The bitches are solicitous of him and he responds by guarding and disciplining them. The bitches can be found any time of day sunning themselves, but PETE can be found only in the fireplace. I'll keep you posted on any interesting occurrences on Lake Sidney Lanier.

The GABC training classes are drawing to a close for this session. Our fun match is scheduled for July 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Mooney. Our judge will be Mr. George C. Jones, III, with trophies as before, for Best Puppy, and for Best Adult.

Plans for the BCOA Southern Specialty, October 10, in

BASENJI CLUB OF NEW ENGLAND yankee doin's

by Robert House

RFD #1, Skyline Drive, Oakdale, Connecticut 06370

August being the month of the stud issue of The Basenji, it seems appropriate to pass on a few helpful hints for making stud arrangements for your female.

After you have made the decision to breed your female, the owner of the stud should be contacted as soon as possible because others may have plans to use the same stud and most stud owners won't let their stud service more than two in one week's time.

Some of the most carefully planned events never take place, however, so it is a good idea to select a second choice in advance so you aren't looking for a stud at the last minute.

Ask advice from more experienced breeders if you have trouble selecting the right stud - most breeders will be happy to answer your questions and suggest a suitable stud for your bitch.

Persons owning a novice male that they would like to use for stud should use care when attempting to breed because an aggressive female will sometimes attack a strange male, therefore one should always hold the female before and during the actual mating. A young male will sometimes lose interest in breeding if once attacked and could ruin a good stud dog.

A stud agreement should be made in writing and be as complete as possible. We know of a case in another breed where it was agreed the stud owner was to have pick of the litter for the stud fee. The female produced a single whelp, and this puppy went to the owner of the stud. This was an unusual case, but it can happen. Ask the stud owner if he will guarantee more than one puppy or repeat the service if there is a litter of only one.

Much luck with your 1970 breeding plans!

Thought I'd pass along this quote from a letter from a lady who bought one of our pups awhile back . . . she wanted a show quality pup although it is doubtful that they will ever have him shown. . . Her comments speak for themselves.

"Many of our friends and our grandson's wife, are quite interested in acquiring one but price is a big factor. They will learn, probably, that if you want quality in a dog, as in anything else, you pay for quality. Everyone is enchanted with TIMBU. We hope Basenji breeders never lower the price so the breed becomes too common as with Cockers and Poodles."

I thought too, I would pass along the word to all the wonderful people who wrote to us after our accident last fall, that TINKLE is completely healed and last week began training in Class 4 at Canine College towards her C. D. X. degree. Despite the long scar on her right hind leg, she loves the jumps and they seem to offer no difficulty. DAFFY who was also injured in the accident is also working on novice lessons in hopes of earning his degree in C. D. . . .

. . . Mrs. Hill, couldn't you possibly devote at least one complete page to the novice breeder? It seems there are so many things that could make it easier for them. They have no Elsa Hubbard to call on as I had, so I had very few problems that seemed like mountains. Still there were things that even Elsa couldn't prepare me for. I read that article in "Popular Dogs," in the Basenji column for May 1970. Now, if in your magazine there had been a small item stating the harm of cow's milk to some puppies and that goat's milk is the closest to a bitch's milk. This may be expensive in some parts of the United States, but also comes in cans and could be fed to pregnant bitches and puppies until the puppies were on solid food. I'm sure she and a lot of others would have appreciated it. Also goat's milk must be purchased pasteurized for undulant fever from a goat is ten times more severe than from a cow. My veterinarian told me that. Also give puppies whole raw carrots to teethe on. Wood causes splinters, even the hardest and that may end in a perforated ulcer and death. All breeders, however great, start small and from the small ones come such kennels as yours and other important ones. True, some breeders are not serious enough to make a career out of it, but help is needed by the novice. . . .

YODELS FROM THE EVERGREEN BASENJI CLUB

by Sheila H. Smith

14944 21st Avenue Southwest, Seattle, Washington 98166

By the time you read this, our second specialty will be history. We are amazed at the people who have been showing for years and are unaware of the efforts involved in attaining a specialty rating. The Evergreen Basenji Club is as yet the only area club licensed to hold a specialty in addition to the four BCOA Specialties. There is a lot there to think about. Get cracking, you other clubs! The breed needs your unified support.

Vacation time and the first we've taken as a family, ever! We borrowed a Nimrod trailer and headed for the Redwoods. It rained! We ended up in Santa Clara at the Zenner's. Our biggest thrill was meeting CH. GLENAIRLEY MARSH MARIGOLD, a grand old lady, owned by Dorothy Felton - the Ethel Barrymore of the Basenji stage. Her gait is spritely, her ear set the best, her wrinkles superb - and her dignity is supreme in the face of the three romping youngsters. Put her back in her prime and she'd give your young gals a run for their money!

To condense our trip, we saw newly crowned CH. FULA SIROCCO OF THE CONGO and his nice family; SIR DOLLITAR OF HORSLEY, and a repeat meeting with NIMAR'S SERENA OF KEE whom we nearly consider "ours." Her daddy, THE PRINCE, is now at TANDA'S. Of course, the Zenner Basenjis we had met before, except for new black and white ROBBIE from Scotland, and ZI ZI, the only "sinks when it swims" Basenji that we've met.

We left Friday morning after an hour of trying to repair a trailer light hookup. One certain Boeing engineer finally let his wife fix it with an eyebrow pencil.

Barb and Ken Fay have moved back here from Hill Air Force Base in Utah. Pat Bright moved back to her home town of Madison, Wisconsin. We hope you Basenji owners there will take advantage of her year's training in such matters as condensing one hour of discussion into three lines of type, and form a club and elect her secretary!

Our fund-raising idea of "garage sales" is working out nicely. The first two brought approximately $90 each, and the third $40. With summer here we are holding off and collecting and waiting for people to stay home this fall.

FITTING A DOG FOR SHOW

by R. W. Kirk, D.V.M.

A presentation at Dog Health Seminar, O'Hare Inn, Chicago, Illinois, sponsored by Morris Animal Foundation, Denver, Colorado.

Each breed of dog was evolved for a purpose — in general those features which enhance that function should be emphasized for the judge. However, I despair sometimes at the extremes which become fashionable. The animal's best interests are not served by emphasizing such things as special folds of skin, wide shoulders and narrow hips, collapsed faces or peculiar angulation. If the fashion pendulum swings too far either way, health aspects can be detrimentally affected.

Except for a few breeds, a slight amount of extra fat is needed for best show ring appearance. However, the dog can't be flabby and he can't be a bundle of solid muscle — he must look "sleek." Walking exercise and good nutrition should be balanced to provide the best result. Some dogs are early maturing while others are "late bloomers." Force feeding and other tricks to fatten up the puppy for show should be avoided. They form bad habits and present the dog to the judge falsely. Wait until the pup matures adequately to show him at his best.

Foot care is important to develop "tight feet." Feet can be ruined by housing, on concrete or slick surfaces. Proper gravel is often ideal for runs as it forces the toes to exercise. While on gravel the feet may appear splayed, but once off it the toes tighten up nicely. Limestone surfaced runs may be bad for long hair breeds as it causes "chalking" and a broken coat.

Coat care is a special problem. In general, bathing should be kept to a minimum as it is drying. However, with long or kinky coats more frequent washing may be needed to remove dirt and grit which have a severe abrasive action and may ruin a fine coat. Lots of combing and brushing should always be encouraged.

Diet is one of the paramount considerations in show conditioning. I am opposed to diet supplements, vitamin-mineral mixtures, and coat-conditioner medications generally. In special cases they may be useful. A balanced food should be used as a basic diet and small amounts of special items added to "jazz up" the appetite appeal only if necessary. Most dogs are born with good appetites, but if we cater to them with special treats we form habits which cause future problems.

Getting a dog in top condition for show is a real challenge. Many dogs never obtain the bloom so admired. Many obtain it before or after the important date — this is one of the factors making shows fun and frustrating. It also explains one of the variables for different placings of the same competitors. These challenges will always make show competition an exciting game.

ized diet, with a minimum of carbohydrates, and to remain on this diet continuously. Animals do not require a change in diet and will very often eat the same monotonous diet daily, which makes it easy to control the diet of a diabetic pet.

ON THE SHOW TRAIL WITH KIMBA

We've travelled east together,
And north, and south, and west;
We've met with dogs and judges
That put us to the test.

And 'though we were not always
The favored one in sight,
We put forth our best effort
And gave a sporting fight!

Of course, we must admit that
It's awfully fun to win,
But we have learned when losing,
To take it on the chin.

For everyone aspires
To earn the highest place,
But without the competition
There wouldn't be a race!

And so we play the show game,
Working to excel,
But know our best achievement
Is just to play it well.

- - - Mary F. Williams

ODE TO THE JUDGE

Hey Judge, tell me what is good type?
A line of clear print in a book?
When you have Basenjis in the show ring,
Pray, at what or where do you look?

Is age the ultimate; the only thing going,
And we show a good puppy in vain?
Or is your "bag" the way the dog moves,
And ignore that he's built like a Dane!

Or do you like wrinkles and to heck with
the rest;
You ignore the type that's behind it.
Oh, help us, completely if you like substance best!
Go judge the Boxers, you'll find it!

And now a new color to further confuse
you.

What shall you do with the blacks?
Will you ignore poor type and put up the color,

Or give a good black the ax?

Are children the easiest and just simply dump them?
The dog and its type? "It's a filler, of course!"

You ignore them, or bait them and sure underrate them!"

And put up an adult dog that is worse?

Oh Judge take heart, we love and revere
you.

You have courage where most of us stop
You got your license to put up your pick,
But please, put proper type to the top!

Ah, judging - what is this thing,
Looking at the dog or t'other end of the string?

- - - A. Nonny Mouse

POETS' CORNER

We love to go outside, you know,
To see the sun we idolize;
When someone cleans our basement tho',
We should be there to supervise.

- - - Cathy Cant

"Tales of the Vienna Woods."

- - - Marianne Carden

"Now, about the birds and bees!"

"Never too young to learn

BE(AU) JABBERS

You were my first, you'll be my last,
My old girl from the past,
For such as you are all too few
Among the ones who'll do.

Long may you reign, more fame to gain,
Your honors never wane,
Until you say, "Let's slip away
To find a brighter day."

- - - Carolyn Forse

"Lunch wagon is for everyone, isn't it?"

The lone survivor from a litter of 12, during a severe cold, decided on 'any old port in a storm' would do. His name is "Arnold," and BANJI nursed him along with her own litter of six.

Now, puppies and Arnold eat the pig food, then all eat the puppy feed.
They wrestle and play and the pig seems to have the advantage - by a nose!
